

Now you are going to make up some of your own information about trolls because you are the expert. Either print out and fill in the chart below or use blank paper and make notes about the information you will include in each section.

★ Use the planner below to jot down some ideas for your information on trolls.

★ You can use the ideas from the word and sentence games. Remember you are the new expert!

Remember you had a couple of your own sections, which you thought about yesterday.

Once you have filled the table in then start to write a couple of the sections today. You are going to make your own information booklet about trolls. You can illustrate it. Add diagrams etc
